

China's Long March to World Domination

What You Must Do Now to Protect Yourself and Profit

Wake up, America!

Hello. My name is Larry Edelson.

China's on a long march to world domination and their pace is accelerating, and it's about to threaten your financial future and our American way of life.

Over the past 12 months ...

China has surpassed Japan to become the world's second largest economy ... surpassed the United States to become the world's largest manufacturer ... and jumped light years ahead of the U.S. space program by launching astronauts into space while simultaneously building their own state-of-the-art space station along with a new generation of ballistic missiles.

And it is growing economically and militarily stronger by the minute.

China is now home to the world's fastest growing economy ... the world's fastest bullet train ... the world's fastest growing military ... and now possesses the world's greatest deep sea exploration capabilities ... while lending more money to governments and firms than even the World Bank.

They are using their economic power to buy up two-fifths of the world's coal, zinc, aluminum and copper as they threaten their neighbors both militarily in the Sea of Japan and economically around the world ... systematically wielding their economic club against countries that challenge its interests in territorial disputes and that defy its terms.

In a dispute over fishing rights, they punished the Philippines by blocking banana imports from entering China, dealing a major economic blow to a country that exports more than 30% of its bananas to China.

Norway was punished for attending the 2010 Nobel Peace Prize ceremony honoring Chinese dissident Liu Xiaobo by imposing "new" veterinary inspections on Norwegian salmon that cut imports by 60%.

Just this October, Japan was punished over the sale of the disputed East China Sea islands by China pulling out of the International Monetary Fund summit. The chain reaction caused Japanese stocks to drop nearly 2%.

This is how China is marching toward world domination — by flexing its economic muscles while buying up the world's resources and modernizing its military.

It's only a matter of time before China's uses the $2 trillion America owes it as a battering ram to push its foreign policy objectives — not just in the Sea of Japan, but WHEREVER it feels its interests are threatened.

The result won't just steal more of our jobs or block more of our exports. It will also strike to the core of our financial lives — our companies, our money and even our retirement.

And unless we see a dramatic change very soon, there's very little the bankrupt U.S. government can do to stop it.

Where you work ... where you live ... what car you drive ... and what you pay for food, clothing, and energy — you name it — will be indirectly controlled by China because they will soon control the money, the energy, the natural resources, and ultimately much of your financial life.

As you'll see here, the only way you'll preserve your financial freedom is if you take action yourself — TODAY.

That's why I created this presentation: To show you what China is doing right now to undermine your investments and what you must do NOW to protect yourself and your family from China's Long March to dominate the world and destroy your wealth.

If the thought of the USA becoming a financial slave to China disturbs you, I would stop reading now.

I guarantee my presentation will send chills down your spine as you learn about China's Long March to world domination.

Unlike a military victory that would turn our cities to rubble, the fallout from their economic victory will crush every single dollar you've ever saved or invested.

Unless you take action now, the value of your investments, your savings, and your retirement accounts could be wiped out.

Don't think this can't happen!

You've already seen the tremendous economic, technological and even military advances China's made in recent years and how they are wielding their economic power around the world.

The next steps they are taking could pull the plug on your financial future and set back your savings for years.

I know that many in the financial media will dismiss what I have to say out of hand and dismiss me as some kind of extremist.

They said the same thing when I warned of China's rise as early as the 1980s ... and when I forecast the great bull market in gold since 2001 — not to mention the bursting of the tech bubble in 2000, the great housing bust in 2007, and the European sovereign debt crisis in 2010 — each time saving my readers millions of dollars.

Each time, my financial research and global economic outlook were right on the money. Just as they were in 2009, when I said the bear market was over and stocks soared over 50%.

That's why if you can take a few minutes to hear me out, you'll be among a handful of American investors who will be able to turn this crisis into profits, because by the time the financial media covers this story, it will be too late.

And while the steps in China's quest have been many, again, their strategy comes down to three shrewd and well-thought-out stages:

1. Control the U.S. economy,
2. Monopolize the world's natural resources, and finally,
3. Destroy the dollar to achieve their ultimate financial superiority.

The first thing you should know is this: It's not too late to protect yourself and profit, because China is at least 12 months away from setting in motion the third step in their plan.

But I'm getting ahead of myself.

Let me walk you through all three stages of their plan.

That way you'll have a better understanding of what's about to take place and the kinds of investments that will rise when China makes its final move.

China's Step #1: Gain Greater Control over the U.S. Economy.

You can see what China has done to do that every time you go to Costco, Wal-Mart, or Lowe's — flood the U.S. with cheap Chinese goods.

Can you find anything that's made in the USA?

That's no accident.

That's just the first step in China's takeover strategy: Flood the U.S. with cheap goods to strip us of our manufacturing base so they can line their own pockets with trillions of our dollars.

According to Ed Gerwin and Ryan McConaghy of the economic think tank, ThirdWay.org, their actions are clear violations of World Trade Organization (WTO) rules that have resulted in 5.6 million lost jobs since 2001.

The 20 WTO complaints the U.S. government has filed against China over the past 11 years proves just that.

As a result, the Chinese have taken over entire American industries.

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics ...

- The manufacturing industry has lost 1.967 million jobs to China in four years,
- The textile industry has lost 43,488 jobs to China in the last four years,
- The food manufacturing industry has lost 44,133 jobs to China since 2008, and
- The apparel manufacturing industry has lost 52,271 jobs to China since 2008.

All of which are unlikely to come back to the U.S., due to China's lower-cost tax, financing, labor, and currency advantages they've gained over a decade of one-sided trade practices.

You should see China's 12th Five-Year Plan, implemented this year, that's under way now. Atlantic Magazine calls it "China's New Plan for Economic Domination."

It's no wonder. It makes their previous currency manipulations and tactics look like chump change.

That's because their new plan is an even bolder attack: A controlling interest in strategic emerging industries: The very high profit sectors worth nearly $4 trillion that we're counting on to grow our own economy.

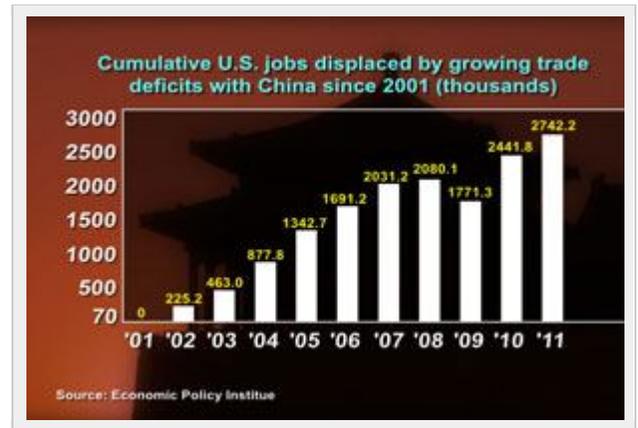

I'm talking about ...

- Alternative energy,
- Alternative-fuel cars,
- New-generation information technology,
- High-end equipment manufacturing,
- Advanced materials, and
- New energy technologies.

The Chinese are going to steal these advanced industries away from us using the same illicit — and even illegal — tax and fiscal policies that have already cost us 5.6 million jobs.

All using the same tactics that filings at the U.S. Commerce Department show China has used to gut the U.S. solar industry over the past five years.

1. Mammoth government subsidies,

2. Massive cash grants,
3. Heavily discounted materials and utilities,
4. Multibillion-dollar low-interest loans, and
5. Outright dumping.

All while keeping their currency severely undervalued to grab more of our money!

They do this for every industry they sink their hooks into: Undercut U.S. companies by giving Chinese companies an array of unfair — and sometimes illegal — subsidies, grants, and loans while sticking it to us with mafia-sized tariffs.

Just look at the tariffs they place on U.S. goods:

45% on U.S. steel products

22% on U.S. automobiles

30% on U.S. motorcycles

30% on U.S. video, digital video, and audio recorders

Compare this with the far SMALLER tariffs we place on top of Chinese imports:

2% to 10% on yarns, cotton, and man-made fibers

10% to 18% on woven fabrics

10% to 17% on home furnishings

10% to 24% on travel goods

There you can see with your own eyes why the U.S. trade balance with China has ballooned to $295 billion ... and why China is sitting on $3.2 trillion of our money!

Those numbers don't include even the $48 billion worth of pirated U.S. software that the International Trade Commission says cost U.S. businesses another 2.1 million jobs in 2009 alone.

So it's also no surprise China's newest Five-Year Plan has been characterized by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and many major multi-nationals as another "blueprint for technology theft on a scale the world has never seen."

The kind of economic theft that could wipe out your savings in the blink of an eye!

You needn't take my word for it.

The employees and investors in American Superconductor Corp. would tell you the same thing — China will do whatever it takes to steal our jobs and our technology.

Here's what happened to them.

When their biggest Chinese client refused to accept or pay for new shipments of their wind turbine technology software, their technicians discovered the company had hacked the source code for their software.

Why pay, when you can steal it free?

This rip-off not only cost the company $140 million in sales, it also triggered a 70% collapse in the company's stock value.

This is just one example of how some companies in China will lie, cheat, and steal, helping China to control the U.S. economy on their road to world domination while wiping out the investments of American investors.

Rare events? Not even close! Gen. Keith Alexander, head of the military's Cyber Command, tells us that there are 155 more examples of Chinese cyber thefts they are prosecuting now.

Sound scary?

Then consider this:

In October, after a year-long nonpartisan investigation, the U.S. House of Representatives issued a strong warning to all U.S. corporations to stop doing business with China's two leading semi-conductor companies.

Why? Because these Chinese companies are unable to refuse demands by the Chinese military to seed their communication equipment with spyware and malware that could threaten America's networks, including those used by the U.S. military.

When you add everything up, what China has done to gain greater control over the American economy and your wealth is indeed very frightening.

As UC-Irvine Professor Peter Navarro puts it ...

"In 2001 we let China into our markets here in the United States and, since that time, we've shut down over 50,000 factories, lost 6 million manufacturing jobs ... and got 25 million people in this country that can't find a decent job, and we now owe $3 trillion to the world's largest totalitarian nation."

Tragically, the U.S. government can't do anything to stop China from stealing our jobs, our industries, and our money — all thanks to the $2 trillion we now owe them.

The reason is simple: To debtors, creditors are dictators. And China is simply the world's biggest financial dictator of all!

You see ...

Without the trillions we borrow from them, America wouldn't have enough money to pay its bills, since America spends over $1 trillion annually — nearly 25% more than it takes in in revenue.

That's how, and why, the Chinese can continue to keep the yuan undervalued, flood the U.S. with cheap goods ... keep their factories humming ... collect trillions in U.S. dollars ... and gain greater control over the U.S. economy to their heart's desire.

No matter how much the U.S. cries in the press, there is nothing we can do to stop it.

That's just the first step in their Long March to world domination: Control the U.S. economy.

Their second step is equally frightening because of what they are doing RIGHT NOW with the trillions they have stolen from us.

But as you'll see, there's an excellent opportunity here for you to safeguard your savings and preserve your financial independence. In a moment, I will show you how to exploit and profit from it. That way you'll begin to see the big picture and how you can profit from China's Long March to world domination.

China's Step #2: Monopolize the World's Natural Resources.

You don't need to have a Ph.D. in economics to know that if you control the world's energy supplies, you can control the world.

The Arab Oil Embargo of 1973 proved just that, when OPEC stopped selling America oil in retaliation for the U.S. selling arms to Israel during the Yom Kippur War.

The "oil shock" quadrupled gas prices almost overnight, forcing Congress to reduce the national speed limit to 55 miles per hour while asking Americans to turn their thermostats down to 68 degrees.

While the oil embargo is now a very distant memory, what's not is this: The U.S. still imports 45% of its oil and is vulnerable to the whims of OPEC.

That's a fact that has not been lost on the Chinese. That's why the Chinese are out to stop U.S. energy independence, as Forbes reported last August.

They are using their $3.2 trillion in foreign reserves to buy up the world's energy resources to do just that.

It's an incredible Triple Crown win for the Chinese.

1. They use their dollars to buy up the world's energy reserves to meet their own growing oil needs,
2. They acquire assets that will go up when the dollar goes down, and, as a result,
3. They can control the price we pay for oil, putting us even deeper in debt and more beholden to their economic rule.

Economist Dambisa Moyo, author of Winner Take All: China's Race for Resources and What It Means for the World, backs up what I say.

"Like a nineteenth-century colonial power, China has ranged the world over to secure the resources needed to meet its ambitions."

Since 1977, the Chinese have acquired interests in exploration and production in Kazakhstan, Russia, Venezuela, Sudan, West Africa, Iran, Saudi Arabia, and Canada.

Today they buy 1.005 million barrels of oil per day from Saudi Arabia, 623,000 barrels of oil per day from Angola, and 555,000 barrels of oil per day from Iran.

This year they have invested more than $17.5 billion in exploration contracts with Repsol YPF, Nexen Inc., and Devon Energy Corp.

You should see the size of their Venezuelan and Canadian oil deals, which are projected to be near $45 billion.

And that's not even the half of it.

Earlier this year, they not only purchased an Aruban oil refinery from Valero, but also took a $2.2 billion stake in Devon Energy, giving them a one-third stake in Devon's oil and gas fields from Louisiana to Michigan.

That's on top of the $5 billion they paid to get their hands on Canadian oil sands, the $7 billion they paid for a share of Brazil's deepwater oil assets, and the $2 billion purchase of Canadian oil sands operator OPTI Canada in 2011.

This is oil that we were counting on to reduce our dependence on Arab oil but now it belongs to China, too.

By buying up oil in our backyard, they are putting the U.S. over a barrel — forced to continue to buy oil in the Middle East, with all its associated risks.

And it's not just the oil they're buying up.

You should see the food stocks, grains, and precious metals that they are now hoarding.

- $6 trillion in gold
- $316 billion in copper
- $278 million in aluminum
- $9 billion in iron ore
- $2.8 billion in soybeans

In fact, last year China invested $322 billion in nonfinancial investments, according to Bloomberg, to “secure energy and commodity resources, buy technology, and build internationally competitive businesses,” to which they added another $35 billion in the first half of 2012.

As Gary Lamphier of the Edmonton Journal writes, their ultimate goal is twofold:

“To fuel the country's expanding industrial and urbanization needs at home, while mitigating China's exposure to the U.S. dollar and other potentially volatile paper assets.”

Of course, when I wrote about China trading dollars for assets in Real Wealth Report in 2009 ... and how they were using this strategy to unwind their dollar holdings to ultimately dump the dollar, everyone said I was nuts.

Yet, that's exactly what China has been doing for the past three years: Using their war chest of $3.2 trillion to buy up the world's oil, gold, and other resource assets.

This strategy not only feeds the Chinese global growth machine, but also will give China even greater economic leverage over the U.S. economy — and ultimately your financial future.

That's because they will have virtually cornered the market on natural resources as they ultimately reduce their dollar holdings to the detriment of the U.S.

That's why the third step in their Long March to gain control of the global economy could be the nail in the coffin for your financial future:

China's Step #3: Destroy the U.S. Dollar to Achieve Their Ultimate Financial Victory.

This is why China is moving ahead at light speed to promote the yuan as the world's next reserve currency! And when that happens, it will set off a chain reaction of events that smashes the U.S. dollar.

The outcome will blindside millions of Americans who have placed their financial future in the full faith and credit of the U.S. dollar.

I don't want to see this happen to you.

If you can play this right, the way I will show you, you could use this knowledge to safeguard your savings and possibly double your money in 2013 as the dollar falls and gold, oil, and commodities rise.

But you'll need to move quickly, because China is picking up the pace to implement the third step in their Long March.

For more than 10 years, I have been telling my readers how China has been making huge strides toward pushing its currency, the yuan, onto center stage — with the express intent that one day it will knock the U.S. dollar from its perch as the world's reserve currency.

That's why China has been buying oil, gold, silver, and commodities on a massive scale while systematically curtailing their dollar purchases, with one long-term goal in mind:

Replace the dollar with the yuan as the world's reserve currency.

Do you realize what this means?

According to Lear Capital, the value of the U.S. dollar could lose as much as 90% of its purchasing power because nations will no longer be required to settle their purchases in U.S. dollars.

So they will no longer need to buy dollars. When that happens, interest rates will blast off and inflation will grip the country by the throat.

As a result, the price you pay for gasoline, food, electricity, and medicine will skyrocket as the dollar collapses and the yuan explodes higher in value.

The chain reaction will enable China to scoop up more natural resources on the cheap, further monopolizing the world's energy resources and dictating the price we pay for everything.

That's been the end game of their Long March to world domination since the beginning. I repeat: Their plan is clear, to ...

1. Control the U.S. economy,
2. Use their reserve dollars to monopolize global resources, and
3. Destroy the dollar to achieve their ultimate financial superiority.

When this happens, China will often be able to dictate to the U.S. and the rest of the world whatever they want — since they will virtually control most of the world's money and its energy supplies.

And they are already starting to do just that!

In fact, just recently, China pulled out of the International Monetary Fund October 2012 meetings because of its heated dispute with Japan over three small islands near Taiwan.

According to Bloomberg, this is the latest sign that China will confront territorial and other disputes using their economic muscle.

To quote Chen Xingyu, an analyst at Phillip Securities Research in Shanghai, "It's just a way of the government making clear its stance and it is ready to use other supplementary measures to assert itself ..."

And there is nothing the U.S. government can do about it.

My sources in China tell me that we are less than 12 months away from China taking its next big steps on its Long March — to use its vast economic power against the United States in its pursuit of world domination.

You need only look at the speed at which China has been buying up energy resources and signing yuan trading agreements to know what they say is true.

For example ...

- In November 2010, China and Russia hammered out a $200 billion deal to use their own national currencies instead of the U.S. dollar for bilateral trade.
- In December 2011, China headlocked America's largest trading partner, Japan, into direct yen-yuan trading — bypassing the U.S. dollar altogether.
- In January 2012, China signed a yuan-for-oil deal with the United Arab Emirates worth $5 billion — ending the petro dollar's 38-year reign in the UAE.
- In March 2012, China signed a currency deal with Australia worth $31 billion. In June, they signed a deal with Brazil worth another $31 billion.
- Also in 2012, China signed loan agreements with the BRIC nations for international and cross-border trades, which HSBC estimates could boost the yuan share of trade by 50%.

All as Britain — supposedly our nation's best friend — is aligning itself with China, with plans to make London the hub for trading China's currency, as the BBC just recently reported.

The bottom line here is this:

For every nation that substitutes yuan for dollars, many other countries will soon line up to follow them.

Why wouldn't they?

With the dollar falling 34% in value in the past 10 years, they have seen their purchasing power collapse as well.

For example, simply by holding U.S. dollars in their coffers ...

The Japanese have lost $379 billion in purchasing power.

The British have lost $92 billion in purchasing power.

The Russians have lost $52 billion in purchasing power.

And Middle Eastern oil producers have lost as much as $90 billion in U.S. dollar purchasing power.

With the U.S. government continuing to print money out of thin air, it's only a matter of time before the world moves to dump the dollar as the world's reserve currency.

I'm not the only one who is saying this; Iwan Aziz, head of the Asian Development Bank, said the same thing during a CBN news report in July: "It's only a matter of time."

Especially now that both the United Nations and the International Monetary Fund also support dumping the dollar too.

Mark my words.

The shock wave could reduce the purchasing power of your dollars by 90% — just as the purchasing power of the British sterling fell 90% in the early 1900s when the world dumped it for the dollar as the world's reserve currency.

When that happens, hold on to your hat.

- Consumer prices across the board will soar. You could end up paying $7, $8, even $10 a gallon for gas. A pound of hamburger could jump to $9. A box of cornflakes could cost you $12.
- You could see home mortgage rates shoot through the roof too, jumping from 4% to 8% to even 12% — causing real estate prices to fall even further.
- As a result, government services and payouts will be slashed, as rising interest rates will make it impossible for the government to meet its debt obligations. Your monthly Social Security check could turn into an IOU — just like those California issued in 2009 when they ran out of cash.

And while I can't tell you the exact day China will launch their final economic offensive on the dollar, I can tell you this: Central banks and Wall Street insiders are already preparing for the end of the dollar's reign as the world's reserve currency right now.

Their gold purchases over the past 12 months seem to prove just that.

For example ...

- India has purchased 773.5 tons of gold worth $41.6 billion.
- France has purchased 6.9 tons of gold worth $376 million.
- Germany has recently purchased 154.5 tons of gold worth $8.3 billion.
- And nations of the greater China region — including Hong Kong, Taiwan, Japan, Indonesia, South Korea, Thailand, and Vietnam have followed suit — purchasing 828.3 tons of gold worth $44.7 billion.

This is why the smart money is buying up oil, gold, and natural resources, to turn the impending crisis into profits, as CNN just reported.

You should be making these investments, too, just as the world's central bankers and insiders do.

They're no fools. They see the handwriting on the wall and are repositioning their assets to take advantage of China's assault on the dollar.

I speak, for example, of billionaires George Soros and John Paulson, whose money management firms just loaded up on 21.8 million and 884,000 shares of SPDR Gold Trust, respectively.

According to Bloomberg News, 44% of Paulson & Co.'s $24 billion fund is now positioned in gold.

Then there's the world's greatest bond investor, Pimco's Bill Gross, who just told investors to buy gold in a September Bloomberg interview, calling gold ...

"A better investment than a bond or a stock, which probably will only return a 3 to 4 percent return over the next 5 to 10 years."

Individual investors are beginning to catch on as well, with investors adding nearly $3 billion to gold ETFs this past September.

It's no wonder.

Bank of America just forecast gold will climb to $2,400 by the end of 2014, while Deutsche Bank sees it jumping to $2,000 by 2015.

Those are conservative figures.

My own work, which has nailed almost every major move in gold's new bull market, shows it heading north of $5,000 an ounce by 2016.

I'm not the only one who sees today's oil, gold, and commodities prices as tomorrow's bargains.

Big-money hedge funds and other big speculators do too and are pouring into commodities at light speed as well, plowing $6 billion into them the second week of September, $4 billion a week for the two weeks prior to that, and $13 billion a week before that.

I'm not surprised.

According to CNBC, for the first time in 12 months, currency speculators are now shorting the dollar.

The reason is simple: They see what China is doing behind the scenes — trading dollars for oil, gold, and energy assets — and have positioned themselves to profit from the dollar's inevitable collapse, too.

For these reasons, if you don't have a position in gold, energy, or food stocks, you could find yourself in the poorhouse with the rest of the unwitting.

I will show you the best ways to do this in a moment.

But you'll need to act quickly.

The reasons are compelling and clear ...

- America has never been weaker financially or militarily. We're in debt up to our eyeballs, and our military is stretched too thin around the world.
- China has never been stronger. They own trillions of our dollars, they control billions in gold, and they have locked in gas and oil reserves around the world.
- While China is building huge reserves of oil and other resources, Washington is blocking exploration, drilling, and production — and has even halted the construction of the pipeline from Canada.
- Our European allies have their own economic problems and are in no position to bail us out. How can they? Their own currency, the euro, is on the brink of collapse, along with the entire European Union.
- Political bickering has never been greater. The gridlock will continue to sink the paralyzed U.S. and the noose of high deficits and entitlement spending will continue to choke the life out of the economy.
- America's financial position will only get weaker as our own central bank keeps printing endless billions of dollars at the same time!

That's the whole reason the Chinese are using their dollars to buy oil, gold, and commodities RIGHT NOW, while behind the scenes they work to engineer a coup on the dollar over the next 12 months.

When you add up what China has been doing over the past three years to trade dollars for gold and energy assets ...

The speed at which they're negotiating currency deals ...

The actions of central bankers buying gold ...

And the amount of money hedge funds and Wall Street insiders are pouring into oil, gold, and energy assets, too ...

The facts tell me that the axe will fall soon.

Highly placed sources inside the banking system would tell you the same thing too, directing America's largest banks in August "to make plans for preventing collapse."

And as Reuters also reported, emphasizing that "the banks could not count on government help."

So let me ask you a few questions.

Knowing what you know now ...

Will you be ready when China makes its final moves and the dollar collapses?

Will you be ready when oil and food prices skyrocket?

Will you be ready when China uses its financial power to dictate key aspects of your financial life?

Please don't think this can't happen ...

Recent history is filled with incredible economic collapses that few people saw coming.

For example ...

In the 1900s, Germany's Weimar Republic collapsed under the weight of political instability and war reparations in accordance with the Treaty of Versailles.

In the 1920s, the United States suffered its greatest economic collapse, when the banking system broke down, the stock market collapsed, and lending ceased — ushering in the Great Depression.

In the 1980s, the Soviet empire collapsed due to failed economic policies, brought about by its own Afghanistan quagmire and perceived need to match the U.S. military buildup dollar for dollar.

In the 1990s, the Argentine economy collapsed from its spiraling public debt, which the country was unable to pay back.

All this is very similar, in key respects, to some of the same financial situations the United States finds itself in today!

Is our situation different today?

Of course it is.

But to think that we are invulnerable to similar kinds of disasters would be foolish and naïve — especially given the $16 trillion we're in debt and the choke hold the Chinese already have on our economy and the rest of the world.

Tragically, by the time most Americans wake up to what is taking place around them, it will be too late — just like in 2000 and 2007 — when major busts and stock market collapses sent millions of unwitting Americans to the poorhouse.

While I'm proud that our warnings saved our readers millions of dollars in each of those cases, countless others lost their savings, their investments, and their homes.

I don't want to see you become a victim here, either.

That's the whole reason I created this presentation — not just to warn you, but also to show you what you must do now to protect yourself and profit before China makes its next move.

Here at Real Wealth Report, we believe the only sure way to do that is to take the same actions that the global central bankers, the insiders, and the Chinese government are taking.

Step 1. Sell any bonds if you have them; they will get crushed when the dollar goes down and the Fed is forced to raise interest rates.

Step 2. Keep very few idle dollars on hand. Invest the bulk of your money in dollar hedges, in the best assets that will rise as the dollar falls.

Step 3. Accumulate gold, natural resources, and food stocks as the Chinese, central bankers, and hedge fund managers are doing, as they offer you the only path to turn this crisis into profits.

Do this now.

Otherwise, when the day of reckoning comes it will be too late.

Since we started warning our Real Wealth Report readers about China's rise more than a decade ago, our readers have had many opportunities to profit by acquiring key resources as China's appetite for oil, gold, and commodities has risen.

For example:

- Aluminum Corp. of China, up 150% ...
- Alumina Ltd., up 105% ...
- Southern Copper, up 147% ...
- Eagle Bulk Shipping, up 73% ...
- New Gold, up 84% ...
- Rio Tinto, up 72% ...
- Allied Nevada Gold, up 68% ...
- Petro China, up 55%, and ...
- CNOOC, up 53%.

Our gold and mineral plays have risen even more dramatically:

- Gold, up 350% ...
- SPDR Gold shares, up 298% ...
- Northgate Minerals, up 271%, and ...
- The Tocqueville Fund, up 146%.

Naturally, individual results would have varied depending on the prices received, and commissions paid. And not all of our picks have preformed as well. And past performance is never an indicator of future result, but we fully expect these natural resource plays to continue to rise as China buys up more oil, gold, and resource assets; puts the squeeze on the U.S. dollar; and ultimately rounds the corner on its Long March to economic dominance.

While I can't tell you the exact day this will take place, I can tell you this: The action you take today will determine your future.

To make sure you end up on the profit side of this economic situation, I've created a basic survival guide that spells out step-by-step what you must do now to protect your wealth.

It's called Hard Target: How to Survive and Prosper During China's Attack on Your Wealth. I want you to have it free, for personal reasons I will explain in a moment.

In it you'll find the information and ammunition you need to protect your family, your savings, and your investments when China ultimately begins its attack on the U.S. dollar.

Your free report includes:

- Six steps you must take now to protect your wealth ...
- Six U.S. stock sectors that will most likely get blown to smithereens when the dollar plunges ...
- 42 big-name blue-chip stocks you should avoid at all costs, and ...
- The WORST investment you could make today.

Plus the same basic emergency portfolio I'm using to turn this crisis into profits — featuring select stocks, mutual funds, and currency investments that could multiply your money many times over, including:

- My top three gold stocks — buying them will be like buying gold at a 92% discount — for as little as $145 per ounce!
- My top four resources companies that will make a killing providing oil, strategic metals, and chemicals to China ...
- Three rare earth giants capable of multiplying your money many times over, and ...
- Seven Western companies that are perfectly positioned to explode in value as China begins exerting its influence on world affairs.

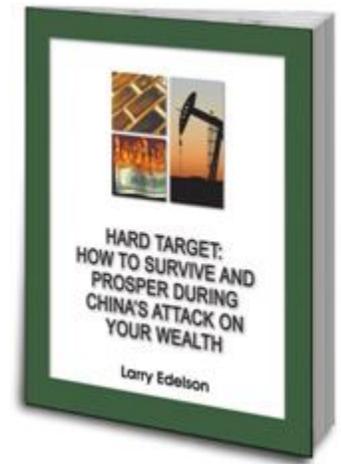

In my free report you'll also find 16 more stocks I expect to explode higher in value as the dollar dives, including:

- My top five food and water stocks ...
- My top four energy companies ...
- My top four “must have” tech stocks, and ...
- The three financial stocks that will prosper as the U.S. economy struggles to survive.

Best of all, Hard Target: How to Survive and Prosper During China's Attack on Your Wealth won't cost you a single penny.

In a way, I feel obligated to give it to you, since no one else is giving you the information you need to survive and prosper. Not the financial media. Not the politicians. Not the government.

The government is not telling you to prepare, because they know that Americans selling stocks and buying gold and natural resources would trigger panic that would sink the economy even faster.

The financial media is not telling you to prepare, because — let's face it — they're in cahoots with the hedge funds, institutional investors, and Wall Street insiders who regularly make their money off the backs of small investors, getting in way before you do.

So while they're taking action to harden their own investment portfolios so they can make a profit on the upside, they are leaving you in the dark — just as they did during the 1987 collapse, the 1989 sell-off, the 2000 debacle, and the 2008 financial crisis — to fend for yourself.

Your broker isn't telling you, because frankly it's his job to sell you investments that make him or her the biggest commissions, not to protect your wealth; otherwise you would have already known about China's assault on your money and you would have already repositioned your assets.

That's why I want to send you a free copy of Hard Target: How to Survive and Prosper During China's Attack on Your Wealth so you can take the action you need to protect your family and your finances before the you-know-what hits the fan.

To help you further turn this crisis into profits, I'm also going to give you these four additional reports free.

Free Report No. 2: The Great Energy Windfall of 2013

Look ...

With global oil demand expected to rise to 99 million barrels per day by 2035 and China leading the way for 50% of this demand growth, I've identified six energy stocks that could multiply your money as oil prices inevitably rise, including:

- The Australian company that some are calling "Hydrocarbons-R-Us"; it's a veritable one-stop shop that's getting rich keeping China's gigantic economic machine humming along at top speed!
- The coal giant that's making investors richer by producing and delivering millions of tons of coal to China's electric power plants and more!
- The company that supplies power to 13 of China's provinces. Shares are up 1,260% since 2000 — enough to turn a $25,000 grubstake into more than $340,000!

My next report will help you profit from the coming rise in food prices.

Free Report No. 3: The Great Agriculture Jackpot of 2013

Thanks to massive demand from China, food stocks are already exploding higher. As the dollar inevitably declines in value and the financial crisis deepens, food prices are bound to go higher — a lot higher.

The four companies I will introduce you to in this report should be the biggest profit-takers of all, as each occupies a key position in the farm-to-consumer food chain, selling China everything from seeds to fertilizers to food production — everything China needs to ensure its food security.

You will also find that as China scours the world to secure the energy, base metals, and building materials needed to meet its global ambitions, the fortunes of a number of construction companies, manufacturing industries, and suppliers will shoot to the moon in 2013.

My fourth report will bring you the information you need to turn those situations into profits.

Free Report No. 4: The Great Materials Explosion of 2013

In the past 12 months, these material stocks are up as much as 42.42% — and I fully expect their fortunes to grow greatly as the dollar falls and China locks up even more natural resources.

As you'll see in this free report, adding these companies to your holdings will give you a powerful one-two punch of owning both materials companies and processors.

Of course, given the severity of the situation, no portfolio should be without gold.

As you have seen in this special presentation, the world's biggest countries, central bankers, insiders, and investors are loading up on gold in advance of the dollar's demise.

You should too. You'll find my top gold recommendations in my fifth free report.

Free Report No. 5: The Great Gold Bonanza of 2013

Please don't buy a penny's worth of gold until you read this report.

All too often, investors jump into gold thinking that they can't get ripped off. There are a lot of unscrupulous gold dealers you'll need to avoid.

In your free report, I will show you not only where insiders place their bets, but also:

- How to avoid the biggest rip-offs when buying gold bullion coins ...
- The best way to buy gold in absolute privacy, and ...
- My confidential "short list" of reputable gold dealers.

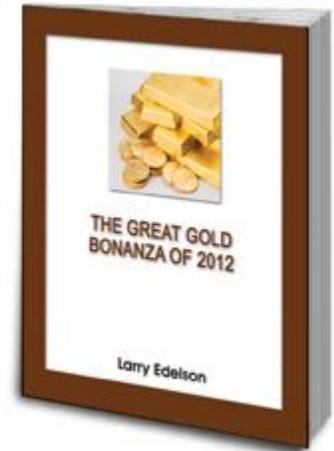

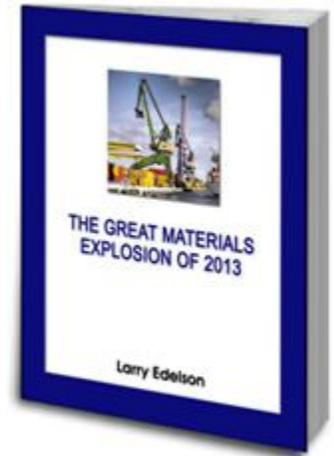

Together, your five free reports will show you step-by-step not only how you can survive China's assault on your wealth, but also how you can come out of this crisis wiser and wealthier than ever before.

While these reports together are valued at $395, I'm going to give all of them to you for FREE — all for accepting a no-risk trial membership to my monthly Real Wealth Report service, where our one and only one mission is simple:
